Daily Thought.

"The free man is the one who has fully obeyed the law."

If President Roosevelt is grooming Secretary Taft to be his successor what an original and altogether commendable way he has of advancing the interests of his candidate. Instead of adopting the conventional hot house method of propagation—keeping Mr. Taft under a glass roof, in public view but secure from adverse winds and blighting frosts of active public life—the president actually sends Taft on every hazardous mission he can find. Who else would have thought of sending his favorite candidate for the presidency to settle the friar land disputes in the Philippines or the Cuban controversy? It looks as though President Roosevelt is giving some of his favorites an opportunity to prove themselves, and, by the way, he is developing quite a huge pile of presidential timber. Root is in South America bringing about a better state of feeling than ever before existed between this country and her Latin-American neighbors; Wilson is looking after the pure food laws and the packing houses; Taft is in Cuba bringing order out of chaos in the little republic, and Moody is driving away at the trusts. Collier's already has inaugurated a systematic boom for Root for president claiming that as a diplomatist he is without a peer, and predicting that his capacity for statecraft will be measured only by his opportunities. Collier's calls him the brainiest man in the country.

One thousand soldiers are patrolling the streets of Atlanta, ten corpses have been picked up on the streets, and citizens in mass convention have seen fit to condemn the action of a mob, which overlooked the guilty in a mad thirst for blood and precipitated a real race war. Perhaps the Atlanta News is now satisfied that the $1,000 reward offered for a first-class lynching has been earned. The citizens of Atlanta have manifested their shame.

Vice-President Fairbanks was treading on delicate ground when, in the course of his speech at the dedication of the $5,000,000 court house in Chicago, he said: "We are all members of one great family." The fact is, a recent decision of the United States supreme court in a divorce case, gave rise to a general fear in Chicago that they were in reality "all members of one great family," and the subject is painful.

The verdict of $1,000 in favor of J. Mark Worten accomplishes as much as a verdict for $50,000, as far as Mr. Worten is interested. He desired vindication and won it. Mr. Worten's character as a reputable lawyer and man of worth in the community has been sustained by a jury of his peers, and he is satisfied. So is everybody else.

President Roosevelt has extended the eight hour law to all departments. Here is another opportunity for Mr. Bryan to congratulate the president.

ENTRAL

SLAUGHTER HOUSE MAY BE ADOPTED BY HEALTH BOARD

Butchers' Association Will Ask for More Stringent Inspection of Meat.

At the meeting of the board of health tonight at the city hall, the Butchers' association will have an attorney present to aid in devising means to protect the members from unlicensed vendors of meat.

The board of health also has taken particular interest in the slaughtering houses, the methods of slaughtering and the sanitary conditions. It universally is conceded that slaughter houses in the city limits are not healthful and efforts will be made to get them located outside the city limits. It has been suggested that a central slaughter house under the supervision of the milk and meat inspector be established and require all meat slaughtered, which is to be sold in this market, to be stamped by the inspector.

The board of health will meet at 7:30 o'clock at the city hall.

KILLS SNAKE ON SUNDAY.

Connecticut Man Defends Self and Is Punished Under Blue Laws.

Danbury, Conn., Sept. 24.—Connecticut blue laws make it a crime to shoot a snake on Sunday, and they also make it a crime to sell or to buy the recognized antidote for snakebite. Walking over his farm on the outskirts of this city last Sunday in search of a lost cow, Peter Zarcone, 18 years old took his shotgun with him for protection against snakes. Attacked by an adder while he was passing through a swamp, Zarcone shot and killed the reptile. The report of his gun reached the ears of policemen sent out by the game wardens to watch for poachers, and they caused the young farmer's arrest. When Zarcone was arraigned before Judge Howard H. Scott this morning he was fined $10 and costs. The judge said he had no doubt from the nature of the evidence before him that the prisoner had used his gun only to protect himself against the snake but the laws of the state made it a crime even to carry a gun in the open air on Sunday, and consequently he had no discretion under the law, and was obliged to punish him for carrying his weapon across the farm.

WILL POST DRUNKARDS' FACES.

Fond du Lac Saloons to Contain Photographs of "Habituals."

Lou du Lac, Wis., Sept. 24.—Habitual drunkards in Fond du Lac are hereafter to be photographed, and their photographs will be posted in every saloon in the city. A resolution to this effect has just been passed by the common council. The resolution was introduced by one of the saloon members of the council. The reason for the action, he says, is that a man whom the council might declare a habitual drunkard, might be known to only two or three saloonkeepers, and after being "posted" might go to any saloon where he was not known, and obtain drinks. The police would then arrest the innocent saloonkeeper. If every notice to saloonkeepers, forbidding them to sell liquor to a certain person, contained a picture of that person, the dealer could post it in a conspicuous place and he would then know instantly if that man applied for a drink. The task of securing pictures of drunkards and sending the notices to the saloons is placed upon the police. No photographs have yet been taken under the new act.

ASKED FOR SALT.

After Surgeons Gave Him Up as Dead in Hospital.

New York, Sept. 24.—Edward McElroen, of Yonkers, came back to life today after lying apparently dead in a hospital for half an hour with stilled respiration, a heart that had ceased to beat and a body that already had grown cold.

McElroen was taken to the hospital unconscious from two blows which Fire Commissioner Burns had struck upon his head, inflicting a compound fracture. Dr. Ruble had just begun to drill into the horribly injured skull when a fellow surgeon told him it would be useless, as the patient was dead. Dr. Ruble and he applied every known test, McElroen's heart had ceased to beat, and there was no movement of respiration. The physicians began to clean their instruments and sent for a porter to carry the body away. They were startled by a gasping breath from the operating table. The "dead" man had moved one arm from his side to his injured head, and in a wheezing, smothered voice whispered: "For God's sake, give me salt." Oxygen and serum were also injected and after two hours' hard work McElroen showed signs of returning life.

"Yes, that young girl is his wife, and he is old enough to be her father."

STAGE LURES RICH MAN'S WIFE.

Despite Entreaties of Husband, New York Woman Becomes Actress.

New York, Sept. 24.—Deaf to entreaties of her husband to abandon her plan to embark upon a stage career, Mrs. Vida Beeton, wife of M. W. Beeton, a wealthy member of Beeton, Dickenson & Co., manufacturers of surgical instruments, appeared tonight for the first time as a show girl in "My Lady's Maid" in the Casino. She was Miss Vida Moore, of Cincinnati, until her marriage less than two years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Beeton came to this city and installed themselves in a luxurious home. Mr. Beeton bought his bride an automobile and opened accounts for her in various stores. She was at once taken up by social leaders of the neighborhood and has since occupied an enviable position there. Mr. Beeton said today: "As a last resort, I am considering the advisability of moving out of the city and establishing a home where the temptations of the theater will be removed. Whatever action I may take thereafter will be governed by Mrs. Beeton's course in going with me or remaining here."

EAR BLOWN OFF: IS SEWED ON

Spokane Man Finds Severed Member and Surgeon Repairs Loss.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 24.—After his right ear had been blown from his head, Frank Fleming recovered the lost member, wrapped it carefully in a handkerchief, carried it to a surgeon and the latter sewed it back on. Fleming was standing on the railway platform at Buckeye Station as a freight engine passed. Without warning the cylinder head of the engine blew out, Fleming's right ear was cut off by a flying missile as cleanly as if the work had been done by a skilled surgeon. Passengers who hastened to extend sympathy to Fleming were brushed aside by him while he instituted search for the severed ear. It was found intact, several yards from the scene of the accident. Fleming picked it up, placed it in his pocket and carried it to Loon Lake, where a surgeon restored it to its normal position.

SPURNED BY DESERTED WIFE.

Woman Rejects Husband's Advances After Fifty-seven Years.

Richmond, Ind., Sept. 24.—The postmaster at Hagerstown has just received from P. W. Street of Red Bluff, Cal., a letter making inquiry with regard to his wife and children who he deserted 57 years ago, never communicating with them afterward. It appears that Street wishes to atone for his treatment and that he has accumulated a fortune. Despite the lapse of time the former wife and both daughters are still living, but the wife, who afterward married Johnathan Worl, since deceased, will have nothing to do with the former husband. However, the daughters will seek to participate in his estate.

FROM DOPE DREAM.

Use of Opium Must Be Stopped by Chinks in Ten Years.

Pekin, Sept. 24.—As a result of the combined recommendation of the Chinese commissioners, who recently made a tour of the United States and Europe, and Yuan Shi Kai, commander-in-chief of the forces, and Lang Shao Kia, vice president of the board of foreign affairs, an edict has been issued ordering the abolition of the use of opium, both foreign and native, within a decade. The edict strongly condemns the vice and commands the council of state to devise regulations for the enforcement of the prohibition against opium smoking and the cultivation of the poppy.

BOY KILL IN PLAY: HIDES BODY

Ohio Youth Pulls Trigger as Play mate Looks Into Weapon.

Marysville, O., Sept. 24.—John Asher, the 11-year-old son of Glenn Asher, was instantly killed today by a revolver in the hands of Hale Seaman, about the same age. The boys were playing at the Seaman home, and found the pistol upstairs. Seaman shot his playmate while he was looking into the loaded weapon. David Sharpe, aged 10, was at the house, and he and Seaman dragged the body downstairs and hid it along the roadside. The remains were discovered by Mary Blackwell, who was passing along the road. She notified the authorities, who are investigating the affair.

Extends Time of Assignee To File Schedule.

All Uncompleted Work in Shops May Be Finished to Prevent Loss of Assets.

CASES IN THE POLICE COURT

Two orders were made in the matter of E. Rehkopf Saddlery company today in county court. The first extended the time of R. J. Barber, assignee, for filing an inventory, until September 29. The stock is so large that he will not have to finish his inventory in the required time as set out in law. The assignee is empowered to do no more work than is necessary.

John Griffin, colored, was presented in police court this morning for the alleged sale of intoxicants without a license and the case was left open. Griffin is alleged to have sold "Cream Ale" or "Pale Ale" and it is another case, where the fight is to be made over the alleged intoxicating qualities of the beverage. It is sold by a local firm, which claims and has proved it not to be. Judge Puryear will announce his decision tomorrow.

Court Notes.

Neal Overstreet was sworn in as a county deputy assessor.

While Americans take great pride and pleasure in being called "a strenuous people," it is perhaps not generally appreciated that a great many injure themselves physically—wreck nervous systems, invite premature wrinkles, gray hairs and infirmities by the hurry, worry way in which they live, neglecting in many instances proper care of the body and letting the real pleasures of life escape as a forfeit. Unrestrained strenuousness means neurasthenia ultimately.

Neurasthenia is nerve-exhaustion and that means inefficiency of the body to carry on vital functioning. Nerve centers lag; debility ensues; listlessness and fatigue reign. Pain may be felt in the back; fullness or pressure at the top of the head; sleep is broken and without refreshment; digestion notably is weak and loss of appetite constipation and distress after eating are the rule. The headache of neurasthenia is like a band around the head; ordinarily is worse in the morning and better towards the end of day, and is probably the most common of all headaches which come for treatment.

Now, drugs do not help neurasthenia; that is admitted; and physicians have long been accustomed to send their neurasthenics away from the cities to the mountains, seashore, abroad or anywhere to find new scenes and enjoy tranquil respite. But that is expensive and there is a surer, quicker and better as well as less costly way—Osteopathy.

Osteopathy cures neurasthenia, which is but another name for nervousness, by stimulation to the nerves and the circulation.

I can show you to your satisfaction in a very few minutes why osteopathy is the sane rational cure for ALL diseases of the nerves.

Come to see me at any time between the hours of 9 and 12 in the forenoon and 2 and 5 in the afternoon. Dr. G. B. Froage, 516 Broadway. Phone 1407.
